Lord Jesus,
Thank you for bringing us into your kingdom,
To share in your kingship.
Help us to call others into a loving relationship with

Message from Mr Hetherton, Senior Vice Principal

As we move into the month of December we start to think of Christmas and all of the preparations that go with it. It is undoubtedly a time of great excitement and frenzied shopping, but it is also a time of great importance to Christians throughout the world. This Sunday marks the beginning of the season of Advent – a word that originates from the Latin word ‘adventus’, which literally means coming or arrival. Advent marks the beginning of our preparations for the coming or arrival of Jesus and is a reminder to Christians of the importance and significance of the feast of Christmas.

The pace of life at Bishop Challoner continues; blink and you may miss an activity or an event that involves students and staff working together beyond the boundaries of the classroom! Last week alone we had several sporting events involving:

- our Year 7 and Year 8 girls progressing to the regional stage of the EFL tournament
- our Year 11 girls winning the inaugural Rock Climbing Competition at Bordesley School
- our Year 9 boys progressing to the quarter final of the West Midlands Cup

In addition to this students, having collected over 150 shoe boxes, received notification from the charity FSCI (Foundation for Social Change and Inclusion) that the boxes are on the way to Southeast Europe to be received by some of the many vulnerable children and families in the region. This outstanding effort reminds us of their isolation and poverty and we hope that the generosity of our students will bring some happiness to those who receive a shoebox this Christmas.

Thank you to Miss Reading for organising the Year 8 visit to the Black Country Museum and to Miss Stone for organising the KS4 Maths challenge visit to Coventry. Both visits went very well and as usual our pupils were a credit to themselves and to the school. Final preparations are taking place for the Christmas by Candlelight – a Winter Celebration production on Monday 3rd December. Tickets are now on sale and we hope to see as many of you as possible to join us in an evening of music, song, dance and celebration. We also offer our congratulations and best wishes to three students in Year 13 who will be attending interviews at Cambridge University next week and to another two Year 13 students who have interviews at Oxford University.

As we move towards the end of term and the Christmas season, let us keep the students of Year 11 in our thoughts and prayers as they sit their GCSE mock examinations. May they understand the importance of rigorous preparation and for them to do the best they can to achieve results that will motivate them in the run up to summer 2019.

Thank you for your continued support.

Teaching School Update

Livestreaming is becoming a very popular way for people to broadcast themselves on apps and sites such as Instagram Live, Facebook Live, Periscope, Twitch and YouTube Live.

Livestreaming plays a positive role on the internet, be it someone live streaming a game they are playing or an individual live streaming a breaking news story from the scene. However, because it is live, content is not censored prior to broadcast meaning that children can be exposed to foul language, inappropriate behaviour and other unsavoury things. We advise that you talk to your child about livestreaming and enquire as to what it is, if anything, they are watching.

Year of Health & Wellbeing: Staff Wellness Tip #5

Miss Dyer's top tip to maintain good wellbeing is to dedicate at least one regular night a week a night to spend with loved ones. Every Thursday night Miss Dyer swears by forgetting all stresses the week may entail and committing to focusing on quality time with someone special. Activities she suggests include: making a new recipe together; going for a walk; playing board games; or taking a trip to the cinema.

Spending time with positive people doing the things you enjoy on a regular basis can increase one's life expectancy according to some research. On the 1st of August 2018, The Independent reported research conducted by Dan Buettner, author and fellow of National Geographic. Mr Buettner's study demonstrated a commonality between regions of the world where people live longer and regions of the world where people prioritise healthy, strong friendships. After exploring this correlation he was led to conclude that friends can encourage healthy behaviours that support one's social, emotional and even financial side leading to less stressful lives. So consider when and how you make time for your loved ones and the benefits of prioritising time with others.
